Outstanding growth for Elk Point and District Lions Club

Elk Point and District Lions Club recently received a prestigious award for recruiting the most new members of any Lions Club in their 44-club district. The crystal -lion - topped P.D.G. Robert J. Gale Club Membership Growth Award was proudly displayed at last Thursday's special joint meeting of the Lions, Elk Point Community Lions and Elk Point Leos, who welcomed District Governor Ken Straughan of Bruderheim, Zone 8 chair Doreen Bradley of Bonnyville and Lions from St. Paul, Bonnyville and South Cooking Lake.

District Governor Straughan said Elk Point "is doing extremely well," especially impressive since District 37F is "in trouble - membership is down over 100 in the last two years." He said the district needs a net increase of 8 members per club to get back on track, "but that seems to be impossibility in other small towns. It's hard to get the youth and the empty nesters involved."

Straughan later presented Lions president Jonny Nielsen with a certificate acknowledging his outstanding recruitment of new members.

Straughan passed on a message from Lions International president Jeams Moore III, to "light the paths" to bring in more members. These paths include youth, public awareness, leadership and membership, and Straughan said Elk Point is doing well on all counts. "It does my heart good to see the Leos here. It's a big undertaking to work with youth." Regarding public awareness, "you're doing a tremendous job, and the community knows it. If the community knows the time you're putting in, it comes back tenfold." Leadership is exemplified by "showing the Leos where to go," and regarding membership, Straughan urged the Lions to "always talk Lionism, and be proud to be a Lion."

Straughan congratulated president Pam Frisby and the members

Elk Point's Christmas Extravaganza goes Friday

The final touches are now being put on Friday's Christmas Extravaganza by the busy merchants of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, who hope the November 30 event will encourage Elk Point and district to shop locally this Christmas.

Santa will take a brief tour of the town on one of the two horse-drawn wagons which will offer hay rides all evening, before he settles down at Danin Office Supplies to have his photo taken with scores of local children.

Meanwhile, on Main Street, the big traditional bonfire will blaze and Christmas music will be in the air as shoppers troop from store to store to check out the bargains.

The Enterprise and Innovation students from F. G. Miller High School will be serving up hot chocolate and hot dogs in the lobby of Servus Credit Union.

An added attraction this year is the Minor Hockey

Shootout, from 7 to 9 p.m. on Main Street, and of course the Lions Club will be on hand to put your name on the Community Christmas Card.

The Friends of Elk Point Library are setting their Silent Auction in the Plaza 75 Mall, where a few crafters also plan to set up shop for the evening.

There are more ways than ever to win merchandise prizes or Christmas shopping money during Extravaganza. Extravaganza bingo cards are on the back of flyers distributed by mail early this week, and the game starts Wednesday at 22 participating businesses, with stamped cards to be exchanged for draw slips Friday evening at Northbound 41. Five draws for $100 in Elk Point Bucks will be made at 10 p.m. that evening. Flyers will also be available at participating merchants.

Each flyer is stamped with a number, and if your flyer number matches one of the numbers prominently displayed at a participating business, you will win an instant prize.

You could also be an instant winner if the Chamber's own bell-ringing Mystery Shopper taps you on the shoulder when you're shopping at a participating store and presents you with a gift certificate to be used in that business.

The Spin-and-Win wheel will be located at Elk Point Co-op, with numerous prizes, large and small, on offer.

Abilities director visits Chamber

Tim Bear of Elk Point Abilities Network visited the November 21 meeting of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, and gave insight into the types of programs and services which could be offered here. "There most assuredly are needs," he noted. Original plans to have the office the Network shares with a lawyer and accountant open one day per week have been expanded, and "we've been here two or three times a week. You'll see a fair amount of us."

One need Bear has noted is that of transportation for seniors, some of whom "don't have the luxury of relatives or neighbors willing to take them places." Elk Point doesn't have the population needed to support a full-time handi-bus such as St. Paul has, "but that doesn't mean we can't have something in place." The network bases service delivery on what the community needs, and Bear is "excited about the potential." Noting that the Network doesn't "just serve the disabled," he asked the Chamber's assistance in "letting people know we're here."

Four F. G. Miller High School students, members of the Enterprise and Innovations class, were on hand to observe the meeting and ask questions. While last year's class created a business which sold exotic coffees, this year's is more of an "odd job" crew and are willing to shovel walks and take on other such tasks. One of their fundraisers may be to sell hot dogs and to serve hot chocolate for the Chamber at Extravaganza.

Myron Goyan invited the Chamber members to attend the upcoming Heart of the Lakeland meeting on December 12, with a new format which will give local businesses an opportunity to interact with the HOL board of directors. He noted that the dinner meeting, followed by entertainment, may attract "a lot of people who can't make it to morning meetings."

Playground zones to be enforced

Elk Point students will have a safer walk to and from school and play, due to increased vigilance in two playground zones which have been the subject of many discussions by Elk Point's Community Advisory Policing Committee, RCMP and Town Council.

Elk Point RCMP will be increasing enforcement efforts on 50th Street and 51st Street by the two schools which are designated as playground zones. A playground zone as defined in the Highway Traffic Act is "between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and one hour after sunset," and is enforceable all year round, not only when school is in session. The speed for playground zones is 30 Km/hour.

Complaints have been made regarding speeding vehicles in these areas and as a result there will be an increased police presence. Offenders will be ticketed.

community NEWS

Fuhr in the stands for Elks victory

Elk Point Elks had a surprise visitor in the well-filled stands at A. G. Ross Arena Saturday night when the Paradise Valley Jets came to town. Rumors were flying that former Edmonton Oilers goalie Grant Fuhr was in the building as they went into the second period ahead by one goal, and racked up four more in that 20 minutes to take a commanding lead.

By midpoint in the game, autograph hounds were leaving their seats to climb up to Fuhr's viewpoint in the southeast stands, with some of the Elks joining the lineup to meet Wayne Gretzky's former teammate during the second intermission. The Elks went on to score six more goals in the final period, with the Jets able to hit the mark only once for a 13-3 final score.

Who made all those goals?

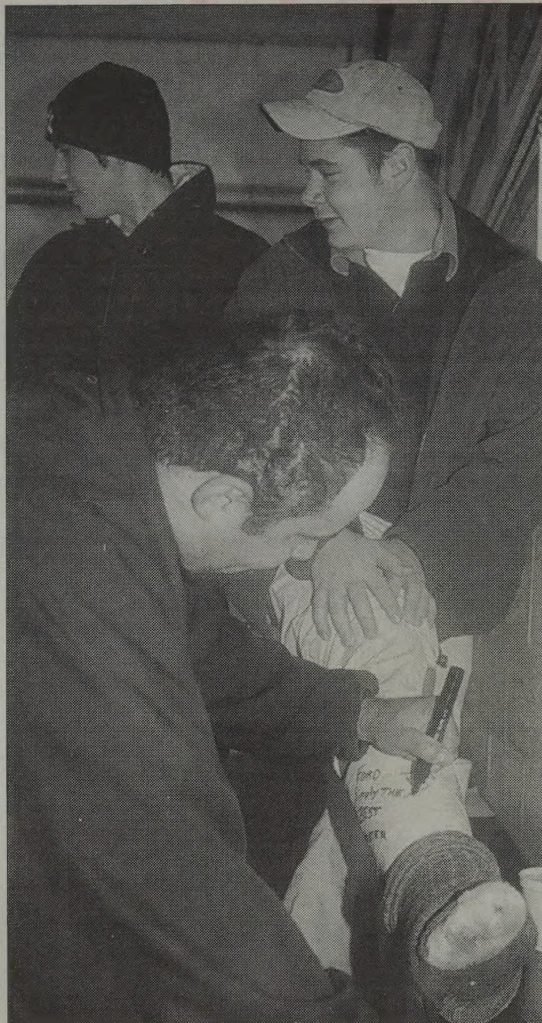

Lawren Wowk teamed up with Leighton Gray to score two of the first period goals, with the third slammed home unassisted by Clayton Cardinal.

In the second, Aaron Aarbo scored off Ferlin Quinney and Cory Laboucane just before the midpoint of the game, while Henry Cardinal, assisted by Clayton Cardinal, and Jordan Bassett, assisted by Henry Cardinal and Vern John, added a pair 43 seconds apart later in the period.

Two goals by Trevor Quinney, the first assisted by Henry Cardinal and Blair Halfe, the second by Clayton Cardinal and Henry Cardinal, started off an onslaught of four Elks goals in a minute and 42 seconds, with the third Paradise Valley goal square in the middle. Jordan Bassett, off Lawren Wowk, and Travis Brown, off Wowk and Gray, followed the Jets marker. Clayton Cardinal and Aaron Aarbo, both assisted by Ferlin Quinney and Norton Quinney, made it a baker's dozen for the Elks, who made 56 shots on goal compared to 34 for the Jets.

The Elks next home game is Friday night at 8:30 when they take on Marwayne. On Sunday they travel to Dewberry to take on the Mustangs.

FORMER EDMONTON OILER GOALIE Grant Fuhr was in Elk Point on Saturday night for the Senior Elks game, and added his autograph to the cast of St. Paul Jr. B player Curtis Croteau, who was injured in a game the previous weekend.

CRIME STOPPERS

Between 8:30 p.m. on Friday night and Saturday afternoon, a van in the area of 48 Ave. and 51 St. had a side window vandalized. The vehicle was parked overnight on the street and the vehicle owner noticed the damage at approximately 3:00 p.m. If anyone saw anyone suspicious in the area, they are urged to call the Elk Point RCMP at 724-3829 or Crime Stoppers.

Elk Point RCMP has received numerous complaints of damage to vehicles in this area of town, in particular the parking lot of the community hall. They request the public's assistance in locating those individuals who are responsible to prevent further incidents from occurring.

At about 5:00 a.m. on November 19, 2001, unknown persons entered a farmyard located about 4 miles east of Highway 41 and north of the Moose Hills road. Stolen from the yard was a grey 1995 Dodge Ram pickup. It is a 4WD with gill guard and cab lights. The paint is starting to peel from the side(s).

Between the hours of 4:30 p.m. on November 17 and 11:00 a.m. on November 18, culprits gained access to a property at the south end of Kehewin Lake, north of Elk Point by breaking through the gate. Once on the property the culprits were able to steal three off-highway vehicles. They are described as: (1) a 1997 Arctic Cat Panther 440 snow machine, dark green in color. This machine has a broken-off rear-view mirror, right side; (2) a 1986 Honda 4x4 quad, red in color. This machine has a black wooden tool box attached to the rear and has specially made Honda decals on both machine and tool box. (3) Also taken was a RARE 1989 Polaris 4x6 quad, medium grey in color. This machine has an extra car battery mounted to the front carriage and also brand new tires. Two vehicles were seen in the area between the times stated. They are described as follows: 1 Chevy Cube Van, white in color with a rack on top. The second was a newer model Ford extended cab, white in color.

Anyone with information is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at (780) 724-3829.

The hockey report - Midget Storm still undefeated!

By Doug Bassett

Review Sports

First of all, I a little plug for one of my old Ancaster High School buddies, #6 for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, punter Bob Cameron. It would have been nice to see him win the Grey Cup. Bob's the oldest player in the CFL right now (47 years old) and I played with him for four years in high school when he was our quarterback. Bob was a great athlete, good at every sport, and when he went on to Acadia University they made him a punter. The rest is history.

Now, back to "The Hockey Report."

The Novice Hurricanes were in Vermilion on the weekend in a tournament, winning the "C" side. Winning in the first game over Vermilion 3 to 1, Eric Kubinchak, Harrison Maas and Chad Nauss scoring. They lost to Mannville 7 to 4 in the second game. Harrison Maas, Brendan Bishop, Dylon Loughran and Tanner Shankowski scoring, sending them to the "C" final on Sunday a 5 to 4 win. Harrison Maas with two, Brendan Bishop, Eric Kubinchak and Jordyn Wozniak all with singles.

In front of a huge hometown crowd, the Tornados tore up the ice on Saturday morning against Vermilion. Two goals each by Trevor Ballas, Tyson Moneta and Brandon Rainey, a single by Jamison Wozniak. Next game for the Tornados is Saturday, December 1 at 9 a.m. when they play at home against Dewberry.

Undefeated league leaders, Cold Lake Freeze, were in town trying to put ice on the Atom Avalanche. But the Avalanche were not going to be a pushover. Although the score didn't indicate it, 6 - 1 for Cold Lake, this game was a far cry from a run-away. The Avalanche skated right with the Freeze, and I think all the boys and girl deserve a pat on the back and an

"A" for effort. Special mention to Josh Weir for carrying the puck end to end, then sliding a nice pass to Kameron Ballas who tucked one behind the Cold Lake goalie. Goaltender Jerin Bezpalko facing 43 shots, came up solid and kept the game respectable.

On Sunday, the Avalanche had an easy win over Saddle Lake. Ian Jurak with four, Ryan Marceniuk with a hat trick, four assists for Adam Carlson.

The Elk Point-Dewberry Bantams faced the top team in their North East League, a big physical team from Lloydminster that has gone undefeated this year. The final score, 5 to 3 for the Border City bunch. A stellar performance by goalie Kurt Kozicky, Robert Goldsmith, Nicky Myshaniuk and Myles Quinney with the goals.

The Midget Girls Storm took their undefeated record on the road on Sunday, traveling south to Hardisty, winning 5 to 0. Brooklyn Blacklock, Kali Cousins and Megan Tucker with singles, Kristyn Ballas with two. Six in a row, and it was not that long ago when we were always on the receiving end of a loss.

The Elk Point-Dewberry Peewee Avalanche played at home in Dewberry on Sunday, facing Lloydminster to a 4-all tie in a real tight checking game. Dan Blacklock, Jeff Huseby and Mitch Walker scoring.

The K. A. Campbell trivia question: Who was that guy in the stands signing autographs at the Elks game Saturday night? Did someone say Grant Fuhr? Well, what do you think, too easy?

ASCSRA plans winter sports competitions for seniors

By Paul Boisvert

Alberta Senior Citizens Sports and Recreation Assn.

The Alberta Senior Citizens Sport and Recreation Association (ASCSRA) has developed a program of winter sport competitions for seniors. The events planned will bring together representatives from the eight provincial zones.

ASCSRA has a committee in place which has been working to develop a festival of winter activities on par with the Senior Summer Games which are held every two years. However, due to the lack of funding available at this time, ASCSRA has decided to go ahead with a number of activities this winter with individual zones hosting one or two competitions.

The schedule of activities approved to date are as follows:

Skiing - X-country and Giant Slalom in Calgary on Feb. 7 and 8, with four age categories:

55+, 60+, 65+ and 70+ with a time predicted and best time in each age group.

Ice Curling in St. Paul on Feb. 16 and 17, with three divisions: 55+ mixed, 55+ and 65+ open.

Hockey in Edmonton on Feb. 25 - 28 with teams in four age groupings: 55+, 60+, 65+ and 70+.

Euchre in Edmonton on Feb. 27 with two teams per zone permitted.

Pool Table Golf in

Lethbridge on March 14 and 15.

Any person who will be 55+ by Dec. 31, 2002 is eligible to be a participant in these activities. Playoffs will be held as necessary to determine representatives for Zone 7. The curling playoffs have already been set for Jan. 24 and 25 at the St. Paul Curling Club. Anyone wanting more information about how they can become involved in any of these competitions can contact their area representatives for Zone 7 or the Activity Director, Eva, at (780) 645-3531 or Paul at (780) 645-3409.

An information meeting about the hockey activity will be held at the Vermilion Seniors Centre (5324-50 Ave.) at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 2. All persons interested in knowing more about this activity are invited to this meeting.

Please continue to monitor this media outlet for more information about these activities as it becomes available.

If you bought a ticket, you contributed to schools, sports clubs, culture clubs, local environmental programs, health programs, and seniors' programs. Doesn't it make you feel good to see how far $100 could go?

November's lucky winners are Roland and Helen Havener, a trip to Las Vegas, Wayne and Karon Hanson, $100, and Joe Breland from Bonnyville, $100.

And don't worry; even if your ticket wasn't drawn for a trip or a cash prize, you've already won by providing funding for worthwhile community projects!

Santa's Anonymous - your work in the community

By Sandie Bishop

Elk Point Community Lions Club

Community - that's what Christmas is all about, and Christmas is what Santa's Anonymous is all about.

The Community Lions Club of Elk Point (formerly the Elk Point and District Lioness Club) coordinates distribution of Christmas gifts and food for 20 to 25 families every year. But it's really the work of the whole community that allows this project to brighten Christmas for families in need.

It's easy to help Santa's Anonymous. You can drop off new, unwrapped toys with local merchants, or donate money in any of the collection jars in Elk Point.

Just before Christmas, the Community Lions will visit the merchants in town (who kindly open their doors after hours) to shop for toys, clothing and food. Then club members and other volunteers will wrap the presents and pack the food for distribution.

Although the Community Lions Club coordinates the project, Santa's Anonymous really is everybody, as a community, brightening Christmas for all. Share in this community project through your donations.

November is Diabetes Month

By Linda Fox, RD

Elk Point Health Centre

One and a half million Canadians have been diagnosed with diabetes. Another 750,000 are thought to have diabetes, but don't know it. These numbers are expected to increase as the population ages.

Chances are, someone in everyone's circle of family or friends has diabetes. By learning more about diabetes, you may be able to recognize the symptoms and determine if you, or someone you know, might be at risk for diabetes. November is Diabetes Month. Take this time to find out what you can do to prevent or at least delay the onset of this disease.

Diabetes is a lifelong disease in which your body cannot properly use and store the fuel (sugar) you take in from the foods you eat. Insulin is needed to help the body use sugar for energy. When insulin is not available, the sugar from food stays in the bloodstream causing blood sugars to rise.

Type 1 diabetes occurs when the pancreas no longer produces insulin. Among Canadians with diabetes, about 10% have Type 1. All people with Type 1 require daily insulin injections.

Type 2 diabetes occurs when the pancreas is not producing insulin effectively, or the body can't use the insulin it produces. People with Type 2 diabetes may be able to manage their blood glucose through diet, exercise and possibly oral medications. Some people, however, need insulin by injection. About 90% of people with diabetes have Type 2.

You are at increased risk for Type 2 diabetes if you are over 45, overweight and have a sedentary lifestyle. If you're at risk for Type 2, do what you can to maintain a healthy body weight and lifestyle. This is best achieved by combining healthy eating, based on Canada's Food Guide, and regular physical activity, based on Health Canada's Physical Activity Guide with regular visits to your doctor.

Gestational diabetes is a temporary condition that occurs during pregnancy. It affects one of every 20 pregnant women. Forty percent of those women will develop Type 2 diabetes later in life.

Diabetes is serious business. If left untreated or improperly managed, the high blood sugar levels can slowly damage the blood vessels in the body, resulting in a variety of complications such as heart disease, blindness, kidney disease, amputations and impotence.

It is estimated that one in every seven of our health care dollars is spent on the direct and indirect cost of treating people with diabetes.

With careful management, these complications can be delayed and even prevented. The first step in preventing the onset of these complications is recognizing the symptoms that may indicate you have diabetes.

Some of the symptoms of diabetes include: frequent urination, unusual thirst, changes in appetite, unexplained weight loss, extreme fatigue, irritability, blurry vision, tingling in hands and feet.

Not everyone will have the same symptoms. In Type 1 diabetes, the symptoms progress quickly and are dramatic. For example, a child may lose weight quickly, be extremely thirsty and visit the bathroom often.

In Type 2 diabetes, since symptoms are slower to progress, it is possible to have no apparent symptoms and to be diagnosed at a non-related medical examination, for example, while going for a driver's license medical exam.

If you have any of these symptoms, make an appointment to see your doctor.

For more information, contact the Registered Dietitian in your area. Information is also available through CDA's web page at www.diabetes.ca or e-mail at info@diabetes.ca.

White Ribbon Week: Nov. 25 - Dec. 6

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

It was on December 6, 1989 that Mark Lepine's shots killed 14 women and wounded another at a Montreal University. The White Ribbon Week marks the anniversary of the massacre. During this week, men working to end men's violence against women will wear a white ribbon and sign a petition as a public pledge by men and boys never to commit, condone or remain silent about violence against women. To all those men and boys who support stopping violence against women, stop at the Town of Elk Point town office, give a donation toward the White Ribbon Campaign, pick up some literature and wear the white ribbon.

The White Ribbon Campaign (WRC) is the world's largest effort of men working to end violence against women. The work is done through public awareness campaigns, educational programs in schools, TV and radio ads, and each year, money is raised for women's anti-violence organizations. The WRC is about guys speaking to other guys about stopping the sexist jokes, harassment, intimidation, trash talk, slaps, shoves, kicks, punches, or anything else that degrades or damages women. Men are being asked not to stay tight-lipped when it comes time to challenge other guys on how they're treating women... children... and of course other men. And remember: "being a real man has nothing to do with violence," but has everything to do with respecting others and working for equality between men and women.

Let me quote some information found in the literature that can be picked up at the Town of Elk Point office. "Wives have been killed at a rate three times that of husbands in the past two decades." "Women are four times as likely to fear for their lives as a result of domestic abuse." "Women are five times as likely as men to need medical attention from battering." "1485 Canadian women were killed by their husbands in the period from 1979-98."

If you've ever been physically violent against a woman, if you've committed sexual assault, if you've hit, pushed, threatened, kicked your spouse or girlfriend, then you have been part of the problem. If this happened long ago, admit what you did was wrong and make amends if possible. But if such behavior has any chance of continuing, then you urgently need to get help to get to the root of the problem. Don't wait until it happens again. Please act today.

Many men will never be physically or sexually violent. But examine the ways you might try to control women. Do you dominate conversations? Do you put them down? Do you limit their activities? Whether or not you've ever been violent, all men must take responsibility for ending all forms of violence.

So don't forget to stop at the Town of Elk Point town office, sign the petition, give a donation and wear a white ribbon. As men who care about the women in your lives, you can take responsibility to help ensure that women live free from fear and violence. Wearing a white ribbon is your personal pledge never to commit violence against women. It is a personal pledge not to condone acts of violence, not to make excuses for perpetrators of violence, and not to think that any women "asks for it." It is a pledge not to remain silent.

Coordinated effort needed for tourism promotion

A coordinated effort is what is needed to promote tourism in northeast Alberta, rather than "a lot of little groups doing their own thing," according to Tammy Bodnar of REACH Corporation, which in conjunction with the County of St. Paul, hosted a series of meetings on tourism recently. "We have to educate people to promote their business, community, the destination marketing organization and Alberta," she noted at the wrap-up meeting in Elk Point on November 12. "Most will promote only one."

Websites based on links would be a boon to tourism in northeast Alberta, but so far, only the fledgling Midwest Tourism Group has such a site. Midwest's website is linked to the mini web-pages of a number of member businesses and attractions, and creator Elizabeth Gauthier is trying to link the site with Parcom Marketing, the body which promotes travel destinations in Alberta to Albertans. Suggestions made to Travel Alberta regarding links have so far fallen on deaf ears.

Community brochures are great, but "if we could coordinate our efforts, we could come up with something that promotes all the communities on every level," Bodnar said. "One of the biggest things I heard [in selling advertising for the Heart of the Lakeland's 2002 brochure] was 'this week it's you, next it will be Kalyna Country, then the Town.'

Businesses only have so much to spend on promotion."

"How do you turn history around and get people working together?" asked Myron Goyan, Elk Point's Town manager. Marjorie Scott, Midwest president and onetime Lakeland Tourist Association manager, reminded the group "it once was all one, but how do we get it back to what it was?"

Something as small as coming up with a region identifier "would be a huge step forward"

according to Bodnar. "It would be more than we have now."

Various methods of attracting tourists were suggested, from a "tacky tourism passport" to brochures with discount coupons that would also be part of a contest and would show the origin of tourists using the promotional material, thus indicating target markets.

While the costs of producing such material are substantial, "if we all work together, industry dollars add up, meaning that much more [in matching funds] from Travel Alberta that we can access."

A snowmobile trail map now at the printers is a good example of a group effort, with numerous recreation-related businesses buying in to the project. However, it's sometimes difficult to convince business owners that "95% of the businesses in the community are in some way related to tourism," Scott said. "They do see tourists." Elk Point Town Councillor Dennis Jasinsky, a service station owner, said "half my business is tourists," and "even the oil industry is very much tied to tourism," George Rife of REACH noted.

Cooperative effort between municipalities agritourism and hospitality training were also discussed at the meeting. The feelings of most of the group were summed up by Doug Lee of the Trail Riders Snowmobile Club, who said "investing in tourism is an investment in our economy."

Further exploration of joint ventures will take place when the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce and other groups related to tourism meet with the Heart of the Lakeland on December 12.

MacDonald Entrance Leadership Scholarship was established by a 1937 graduate of Home Economics.

The 75th Anniversary Foods and Nutrition Leadership Scholarship was endowed by the Alberta Home Economics Association, Edmonton Branch and the faculty, sessional instructors and support staff of the former Faculty of Home Economics.

In awarding these scholarships, the faculty recognized Tanya for her work as treasurer of the F. G. Miller Students' Union, president of the Class of 2001, and her participation and leadership on various sports teams, including the National gold-medal-winning team handball Alberta Provincial Juvenile Women's team. These awards are in addition to the Academic Excellence scholarships Tanya earned from the U of A for her academic grades in high school

Lions Club honored for membership growth

Five new Leos were introduced, with Past District Governor Don Parkin assisting in the initiation and candle lighting ceremony and leading their oath of cheerfulness, service and loyalty.

Three new members for the Elk Point and District Lions Club are also awaiting induction, but because two of them were unable to attend the meeting due to other commitments, this was postponed to a later date.

All three local clubs outlined recent projects for the visitors. Elk Point and District Lions have built a handsome community bulletin board which will be completed with the installation of lights in the near future, and are all set to go with their annual Community Christmas Card this weekend. Elk Point Community Lions are ready to embark on their annual Santas Anonymous campaign, and have one more draw to go in their Trip of the Month Club.

President Brandi Yarmuch said the Leos last video dance was a huge success, with another planned for February.
